

Jane Niebler, RN, BA, HD, DHMS
Doctor of Homeopathy

HomeopathyLife

BREAST CANCER TREATMENT

ONE PATIENT'S TESTIMONIAL ON HOW TO BENEFIT FROM THE BEST OF ALTERNATIVE & CONVENTIONAL MEDICAL CARE

I would like to recount the story of one woman that I treated who used both methods of care after she was diagnosed with breast cancer. Diagnosed in 2005 with left-sided ductile cancer, immediately after the biopsy she came to me for treatment. She was given homeopathic remedies which were suited to her particular case and after one month of treatment she went for surgery. The surgeon was delighted to find that one lump had completely disappeared and the other was reduced in size with a decrease of calcifications. The remaining lump was removed and she was put on a med to reduce the estrogen levels in her body to insure that she was not "feeding the cancer" as she was shown to be very estrogen sensitive. Chemotherapy was not advised. She was put on pre and post op homeopathy also to help the healing process.

Now, two years later, she has remained cancer free. We do not know, nor will we ever know definitively, whether the homeopathic treatment was a significant contributor to the shrinking of the cancer. I asked her in her words, as she looks back, to recount what she thinks helped her.

HERE IS MY PATIENT'S ADVICE FOR WOMEN WHO HAVE BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH BREAST CANCER.

1. As women we have been "sold a bill of goods" regarding HRT therapy. Estrogens and phytoestrogens are not good for you. All you are doing is postponing the inevitable menopausal symptoms when you do go off HRT and the hormones have been shown to increase the risk of cancer. When going through menopause, "Just do it!" It is a natural process. Use homeopathy for help with any uncomfortable symptoms.
2. When seeking out alternative medicine, which you should do to take all available treatment, make sure the practitioner is licenced and do not just grab supplements off the pharmacy counter. Use the guidance of the people who are trained.

3. Don't believe everything you read on the internet.
4. Investigate the wonderful programs at Wellspring. The yoga, meditation and great group of women were and are a constant source of support and aid.
5. We as women have to lose "the awe" that we feel for certain professions, doctors etc. Do your own research and practice "buyer beware".
6. There is definitely a cancer personality. It all goes wrong when life is out of balance. Stress and cancer go together.
7. Take the best of both alternative and conventional help. And then add what feels right to you like yoga, meditation, massage etc. In the end it doesn't matter what helps. The positive results are what count.

As a Homeopathic Doctor, I am well-acquainted with both natural and conventional medicine as a result of early years of intensive care nursing before I became a Homeopath. Each system has something to offer and I am pleased to announce this fact to all who wish to take the best from each science. Especially with cancer, we do not want to limit our options. We of course want to do all that we can to ensure the best possibility of complete recovery.

In the case of cancer, I would strongly advise women to use both natural/alternative and regular medicine. For one reason, the side-effects of chemo and radiation can be treated with homeopathy. Homeopathy can be taken pre and post surgery to speed healing. Also, and more importantly, there are many remedies to choose from in the homeopathic repertoire for treating breast cancer specifically.

Homeopathy treats the specific symptoms of the breast involved plus the "constitution" of the woman individually. This means that in choosing a homeopathic medicine to treat breast cancer, the homeopath also takes into serious consideration all medical history, mental & emotional states & any life traumas and stressors which may have been present before the lump was found. This way, the whole general health state of the woman is being treated as well as the specifics of the breast cancer.

JANEE NIEBER, DOCTOR OF HOMEOPATHY, PRACTICES IN LORNE PARK, MISSISSAUGA. TO CONTACT HER, VISIT WWW.HOMEOPATHYLIFE.COM, OR CALL 905-278-0778.